Presentations

Recent surveys estimate 70% project failure rates, mainly due to poor project management. Even when Project Managers are technically skilled, their mindset has a direct correlation on project delivery.

Bernadette's presentations focus on building a reservoir of excellence customized to the challenges in your organization. The following are examples of available presentations.

- Protect your Project during the Pandemic and Beyond
- Being Human is Just as Important as being Skilled
- Lead with your Strengths and have more fun at work
- Avoid the Amygdala Hijack and turn on your thinking brain.
- Keep your team motivated and engaged
